

TUTORIAL – 12: THE ANIMAL KINGDOM

Dear Parents / Students

Warm Greetings!

The Animal Kingdom is an enormous group of organisms that includes a million different species of animals.

Animals are part of the school curriculum where we study more about the animal physiology rather than admire and appreciate the true qualities of these animals. It is only then can we respect and honour them for what they are worth.

Our Chairman & Correspondent had compiled a Handout in October 2014 listing out the physical features and their characteristics without going into the physiology of these animals.

The aim behind this handout was to explain in simple terms about animals to children of all ages so that they appreciate and admire them and in turn give them the attention, respect and care they deserve.

The characteristics of 72 animals, some of which we often see in our daily life and those which you rarely see or read in books are covered in this Handout.
